

FINDS SAMARITAN IN MAN HE ROBBED

Butcher Relieves Starving Man
Tempted by Sight of Load of Meat.

HIS FAMILY HUNGRY.

Owner of Leg of Mutton Donates
It and Will Try to Get Work for Lorenz.

John Flemming, driver for John Barusch, a butcher at No. 201 Seventh street, came out of a house at Twenty-seventh street and Fourth avenue today in time to see a man taking a leg of mutton from his wagon. Flemming turned the man over to Policeman McKean.

At the station house the man, who was neatly dressed, begged to be released. He said he was Otto Lorenz, thirty-four years old, of No. 230 East Thirty-ninth street, where his wife, Lena, and two-year-old baby were waiting for him to return with food. He declared that he had been out of work five months, and that, except for a few bites last night, he, his wife and baby had eaten nothing since Sunday.

He said that the sight of the wagon load of meat proved too great a temptation and insisted that he had never stolen anything before.

Found His Tale True.

Lieut. Nolan telephoned to Mr. Barusch, who talked with Lorenz. The latter told him he was a bartender and had come to New York five months ago to secure employment and had failed. Mr. Barusch declined to make a charge against him.

Lieut. Nolan sent a man to No. 230 East Thirty-ninth street. There was found Mrs. Lorenz, a bright-faced young woman, reading nursery rhymes to the little girl baby, who was contentedly sitting on her lap. Mrs. Lorenz knew nothing of her husband's arrest and broke down when told of it. She corroborated all that Lorenz had said.

"He is honest," she said, weeping, "and he never stole anything in his life before. He wouldn't have done it if it hadn't been for the baby and me."

Mr. Barusch gave Lorenz the leg of mutton, and promised to see what he could do toward getting work for him. When Lorenz returned to the little furnished room where his wife and baby were awaiting him, he was happier than when he left it a few hours before.

"All I want now is work," he said.

WANTS ALL "SOUSES" EXAMINED IN CELLS

Then Sick Persons Arrested as Drunk Wouldn't Die There,
Alderman Says.

Alderman Kenny wants more responsibility put on the shoulders of Police Commissioner Bingham. He demands that the Commissioner make adequate arrangements in each precinct station-house for the protection of persons arrested for alleged intoxication, but who really might be afflicted by serious illness instead.

"It is a fact which has come to my personal knowledge," said the Alderman today at the meeting of the Board, speaking to his resolution, "that supposed 'souses' taken to station-houses are thrown into cells and should be there without medical treatment. When the autopsy is performed it is found that those persons had not been drunk."

"My resolution calls for the protection of sick persons taken to station-houses as drunks. There should be some kind of medical examination by a competent person. Such medical persons could make frequent rounds of station-houses and examine each prisoner so that the unfortunate will not be neglected, at least in a common cell."

The resolution was referred to a committee.

PICTURE SHOW MAN HELD.

Children's Society Charges Exhibition Endangers Morals.

Samuel Rosenthal, a barber, living at No. 67 Second avenue, was arraigned in Yorkville Court today by agents of the Children's Society on a charge of impairing the morals of children. He is the alleged proprietor of a moving picture place at the Second avenue address, where he was charged with showing a film showing a tug holding up and robbing a victim was being shown. Two of the youthful spectators were taken in charge by the Children's Society's agents.

Rosenthal was held for trial in Special Sessions and the two little boy prisoners were turned over to the Children's Society to be held until the trial.

PAINTER INJURED BY FALL.

Joseph O'Neill, a painter, while working on the fifth floor of the Ninth Regiment Armory this afternoon, fell from a scaffolding and was so badly injured he will probably die. He was taken to New York Hospital. He is thirty-two years old and lives at No. 98 Sixth avenue.

Matter for Congratulation.

Quincy (Ill.) Herald.

The New York World Almanac and Encyclopedia is out unusually early for this year of grace, 1909—and it is well. It is such an important work for public reference that every day gained in usage and service is matter for congratulation. No book in the world contains more of reference value between its covers—for the price—than this admirable annual. It contains the official vote of every county in the United States at the last election, which is itself of inestimable value, and yet is but a thousandth part of the information. There are over 1,800 subjects in the index, which will give some idea of the scope of its contents. If you want to know who licked John L. Sullivan, whether the submarine cable to Vigo is working, or what the tariff is on prunes grab the World Almanac and you will be quickly and accurately informed.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Furs at Half Prices

That's not accurate. Many of the pieces are less than half price. But that's our way. We usually understate our values. We'd rather err on the side of conservatism than to even appear to be reckless.

But the furs, the furs. They are—? The old adjectives are worn and frayed and grown third-rate by frequent use. Come and see the furs. Maybe you can supply us with a new vocabulary!

Meanwhile, like a true advertiser telling the truth, we touch upon figures again.

Shirvans, Mousuls, Beloochistans, Kazaks and Fereghans Are Among the Reduced-Price Oriental Rugs

What was the Oriental Rug situation before we began to handle them in a large way?

The grave, bland, sleepy-eyed Orientals charged the happy-go-lucky Occidentals as much as they could get, and in turn the Occidentals taxed you the limit. We carried the Macy organization right into Constantinople, and, by this means and that, put the thumb-screws on prices. Not until this happened were Oriental Rugs sold on the right side of the Hudson at fair commercial rates. Business, all for business. And from our originally lower prices we frequently make clippings that mean extra savings for you. Like these:

$12.48 for Oriental Rugs that were $14.94

$14.94 for Oriental Rugs that were $17.24

$17.24 for Oriental Rugs that were $19.94

$19.94 for Oriental Rugs that were $23.74

$23.74 for Oriental Rugs that were $29.74

Thibet Rugs reduced from $12.48 to $9.89.
Mongol art in the designs, that are wrought on red, blue and old ivory grounds; sizes about 2½x4½ feet.

Antique Rugs Reduced

Antique Rugs—you know what that means. Age has softened and mellowed the colors. Vegetable dyes need the years to take on the quiet, unobtrusive, tender-toned tones that you admire in Oriental Rugs. These have the delicate lustre that comes with time alone.

Seraband...Size 4.10 x 9.9; was $62.48, now $49.48

Fereghana...Size 5.1 x 9.9; was $74.48, now $59.50

Bokhara...Size 4.8 x 8.7; was $74.48, now $59.50

Samarkand...Size 6.2 x 12.0; was $98.50, now $74.50

Kabistan...Size 4.3 x 10.0; was $98.50, now $59.50

Bergamo...Size 7.1 x 11.6; was $184.00, now $149.00

Anatolian...Size 4.9 x 14.8; was $124.00, now $98.50

Many other reductions. For example: A Persian Shiraz, was $775.00; now $585.00. Another was $1,125.00; now $845.00.

Carpets Reduced

There is no mistake. The types are right. Such figures associated with such Carpets ARE peculiar. But Macy's doings are usually queer in the sense that they are unique in money-saving chances.

59c for our 89c Best Ten-Wire Tapestry Carpets, with borders for rooms, also for halls and stairs. They are the products of one of the leading makers.

84c for $1.09 Wool Velvet Carpets; hall and stair styles that match; rich Oriental effects in Persian colorings. Present or prospective home furnishings should examine them.

98c for $1.19 Extra Quality Axminster Carpets, with borders in beautiful two-tone and graceful chintz patterns—ideally appropriate for parlors and chambers.

$1.12 for our $1.44 Best Quality Wilton Velvet Carpets; Oriental and two-tone effects; especially adapted for halls and stairs that are constantly tramped over.

THE LINEN SALE

One day's selling has hardly made a dent in the Linen display. The array is serried—crowded, dense, pressed together. A Linen show like a snow storm—and the thaw has scarcely begun. The windows and the main aisles give you a hint of the comprehensiveness of our preparations. A few of the flaxen flakes have drifted at those points.

The Sunday papers held half-a-pageful of representative items. None of them is exhausted. Many new ones have been added. These among others:

9c for 13c Cotton Huckaback Towels, heavy grade, slightly imperfect; one hundred dozen of them; 20x12 inches.

9c for 12c Hemmed Huckaback Towels, slightly imperfect but their use side is not affected; 20x12 inches.

10c for 15c Union-Linen Huckaback Towels, all white or with colored borders, slightly imperfect; just right for physicians and dentists; 18x34 inches.

10c for 15c Fringed Turkish Bath Towels, compact, anchored loops; 18x40 inches.

13c for 19c Hemmed Unbleached Turkish Bath Towels; 21x40 inches.

14c for 19c White Fringed Turkish Bath Towels, colored borders; 19x40 inches.

29c for 39c Hemstitched White Turkish Bath Towels, soft and absorbent; 23x44 inches.

59c for 75c Bath Mats; handsome patterns, wrought in choice colorings; 25x43 inches.

A hurricane of trade swept through the aisles yesterday, carrying off vast quantities of sterling Linens at littler prices than were ever known. Fast as counters were cleared, they were heaped up again with masses of fair flaxen stuffs. No vacuum to-day. Full stocks for a full day's business.
